Dear Musty Mustang

Dear Musty Mustang,

Help, there is talk of preseason training and rep trials starting and I am a little scared about my lack of fitness and being left behind. What can I do?

Off season Slacker

Dear Off Season Slacker

Don't be too concerned as I myself always let myself go in the offseason, but in my early days the off season was a lot longer. Starting in November gives you time to ease in to the new season so get along and bring your mates who have not played for a while as well as they will benefit as well.

See you there! Musty
